TROY GYMNASTICS

When Troy Gymnastics needed to renovate and expand, they called on Jarbou Ronnisch Construction to manage their construction activities. Only a couple of miles from Jarbou Ronnisch's headquarters building, the owners embarked on an exciting renovation to enhance an already steady and strong business. The renovations to the existing facility included a new, open course exercise room, a new 25-yard swimming pool, changing facilities, reception area, dance rooms, and party rooms. The facility now caters to a wider audience of fitness and recreation patrons. The facility added to an already impressive list of fitness and recreational lifestyle projects in and around Metropolitan Detroit that Jarbou Ronnisch Construction has completed.
